Naval Commander at Brest Is Quizzed on His Removal by Sims.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Washington, March 26.—First evidence of friction at the headquarters of Rear Admiral William B. Fletcher at Brest came when the British film star now in America, is here seen mingling her charms with those of a cluster of prize winning Easter lilies at the recent flower show in New York.

On his arrival, Captain Magruder, running for re-election, is opposed by William J. Lennartz, city mail carrier.

Predictions are being made that the election will be held before the navy board of inquiry investigating his removal from the Brest command by Rear Admiral Sims after the sinking of the transport Antilles in October, 1917.

Wanted Revision of Unit.

Captain Magruder, Admiral Fletcher testified, had insisted that the fleet organization should be completely revised in line with the organization of naval districts at home.

Fletcher said he could see no need of this and offered to send Magruder to London to report his views to Admiral Sims, but that the officer did not wish to go.

Not Loyal Supported.

"Did Captain Magruder support you loyally and carry out your orders?" Admiral Fletcher was asked.

"I cannot testify as to his having carried out my orders," Admiral Fletcher said. "I do not think he supported me loyally."

SEVEN CONTESTS SLATED FOR CITY ELECTION, APRIL 6

TWO IN RACE FOR ALDERMAN IN EACH OF FIVE WARDS OF CITY.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Janesville's 1920 spring election gives promise of bringing out the heaviest vote since the overthrow of the coalition form of government in 1918.

The four-day nomination period ended at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon with no changes in the list of candidates already announced.

One new development in the political situation was noted today—the retiring from the Fourth ward race of Robert B. McCann.

Doesn't Want Office

"I did not want to run but friends urged me to," he said today, notifying City Clerk E. J. Sartell to scratch his name off the list of candidates.

"I have no particular reason for dropping out except that I don't want the office."

McCann's decision to quit the field cancels probability of a triangular race in the Fourth ward.

Eight in First

The first ward is expected to be a scene of excitement election day with Harry Garbutt, wholesale lumberman, and Le Roy Horn, railway man, fighting a political duel.

More than usual interest is predicted in elections in all other wards.

Tanks Corps Assigned To Janesville

Janesville gets the Tank Corps unit in the state guard. It will be known as the Company I Tank Corps, Wisconsin National Guard, Headquarters section, one platoon company.

A telegram to Captain Feagin of the local guard company last night from the office of the adjutant general brought this news to Janesville.

The order came as a result of the final recommendations of the state guard officers on Thursday and the recommendations by Major Atwood backed by the members of the committee, city officials and many others.

This order detailing the Federal army inspector here on Wednesday evening means that the organization must be acceptable to the United States government army officials.

Janesville however will have the one distinctive unit in the National Guard.

Members of the company are called to meet at the armory Saturday night and Monday to prepare for the inspection and a full turn out is requested.

Accusations Against Dr. Freudenburg in Duffles Mystery

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Markesan, March 26.—The trail to decide the fate of Dr. A. J. Freudenburg, wealthy physician, charged with the murder of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Nettie Duffles, who died under peculiar circumstances last November, was dismissed yesterday when the court was unable to produce sufficient evidence to proceed with the prosecution.

The climax of the trial was due to failure of Mrs. Grace Brehl, Washington, Pa., star witness for the state, to sustain accusations made Mrs. Brehl made.

She declared that Dr. Freudenburg had called her to care for his mother-in-law, Jan. 23, 1919.

The doctor's state charges the mustard solution was injected into Mrs. Duffles' bladder, causing her death.

Dr. Freudenburg made two hypodermic injections. One, she said, was morphine. The other, from its color and smell, she said, she believed to be mustard.

The nurse testified that Mrs. Freudenburg, the doctor's wife, was present when said injections were given.

Dr. Freudenburg was unable to retain the injections and remarked on the yellow solution, asking the doctor to stop.

The doctor replied that it was a solution of "bismuth paste."

The bladder injection was supposed to be a sterilizing agent for gonorrhea purposes.

Dr. Willie Ford, Fond du Lac, had told her, she said, that morphine injections served to stop or hinder the action of the bladder.

MYSTERY OF DOUBLE MURDER IS HANGING ON "THIRD PARTY"

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

New York, March 26.—Detectives of the homicide bureau conducted a wide search for a "third man" today, in the belief that his capture would clear up the mystery in the double murder of Dr. Vincent J. Campisi, wealthy Brooklyn physician, and an unidentified "patient," whose bodies were found in a disordered lodging house in Brooklyn last night.

Dr. Campisi was summoned to visit the patient by a middle-aged man, "Verdy," said Dr. Campisi's body.

An hour later, Dr. Campisi's body was found on the floor of the "patients' room" and the latter was dead, in his bed with the imprint of human fingers in his throat.

The "third man" had disappeared.

A theory advanced was that the "patient" had been used as a double for the missing man.

Dr. Campisi was murdered by the same man who had been summoned to give medical aid, had pronounced the "patient" dead and had threatened to notify the police.

TEACHER SHORTAGE FACED IN MONROE

(By Special Correspondent.)

Monroe, March 25.—"Monroe will be fortunate if one-half of the teachers in the public schools of the city sign contracts for the school year of 1920-21," Supt. L. R. Creutz said today. "One fourth of the school teachers in the United States quit teaching last year, and sought other employment, stenographic work, clerical work and other positions more remunerative and with more inducement for a working life than the teaching profession. The normal schools in the state will graduate this year only about one-half the number of teachers graduated in other years, according to figures received from the state superintendent."

"The local situation is no worse than the situation elsewhere throughout the state. If Monroe wishes to get experienced teachers such as Kenosha, Racine, Milwaukee and larger cities demand, she must pay salaries to compete with these cities," he concluded.

THRONE OF CHIEFTAIN IS FOUND IN JUNGLE

London.—The massive chair made of copper which natives believe was given by the late Queen Victoria of England to an Ashanti chieftain, discovered in the midst of a jungle far from human habitation in the Gold Coast colony, West Africa, according to native legend it was placed over the grave of the chieftain who had occupied it when alive. In their superstition they believe still sits upon his old throne in spirit at certain times and, for this reason, they have never tried to move the chair, which they believe has been brought to life in the jungle, says a dispatch to the Daily Graphic.

A Gold Coast surveyor first stumbled across this curiosity.

The jungle so dense that the natives had to hack a path with cutlasses through the undergrowth.

In spite of inquiry, no confirmation of the native story, as to the history of the chair has been obtainable and how it came to be in the jungle remains a mystery.

GIGANTIC TOUR OF INDUSTRIAL EXHIBIT
TO EXPAND TRADE

[By Associated Press.]
Louisville, Ky.—A plan has been formulated here to expand the foreign trade of the United States through the use of shipping board steamships, as exhibition vessels to carry American manufactured products and visit the world's principal ports.

The idea, advanced by the foreign commerce service of the Southern Railway and Mobile & Ohio railroads, has been presented to the Midwest-Gulf-South Atlantic Foreign Trade and Transportation committee, representing commercial organizations of the principal middle west and southern states, which has been asked to lend its weight to fruition of the plan.

Answers to letters sent to more than a score of cities in the organization enthusiastically endorse the plan. Louisville, assistant foreign freight traffic manager of the two railroads.

McLean says the plan is similar to that proposed by the British government which proposes a gigantic touring exhibition for the British industry. The British plan, as described in a recent American consular report, would be initiated with an itinerary comprising South America, the West Indies, Africa and Canada. "The duration of the tour," the report says, "will be able 18 months and should require of success which is anticipated for it, similar projects to other parts of the world will receive consideration."

Trade and the venture will be planned and carried out by the Department of Overseas Trade. The exhibition, Mr. McLean said, would enable hundreds of American manufacturers periodically to exhibit their products before thousands of foreign buyers. Such exhibitions, in charge of competent salesmen, he declared, would make possible almost instantaneous sale of American goods.

I Like to See 'Em Grow

That's what a man said when a friend asked him why he put in an hour every afternoon grubbing away in his backyard with a hoe. The man might also have truthfully replied that his garden gave him better vegetables for less money, and that chopping up the face of the earth with a hoe beats liver pills for liver ills, and stimulates the appetite for dinner.

But he mentioned the most important thing first—the creative joy of the work. He had taken a bit of hard, dry, soil 20 feet square, he had broken it and pulverized it and fertilized it with leaf mold and manure, and planted it with 52 cents worth of high grade garden seed. These books for you. Send for it to And he had seen that bit of sterile day. It is free.

CHIPPEWA COUNTY FARMER
FINDS THAT LIME PAYS

"I put limestone on one acre on which I could not grow any kind of clover. I sowed alfalfa on this land two years ago and last year cut four tons from an acre. I only cut two crops and let one grow. I have ordered 20 tons of limestone to use this year."

"This is the testimony of Myron J. Close of Chippewa Falls sent to Griffin Richards of the soils department of the College of Agriculture. What Mr. Close did, others can do, says Mr. Richards. There is nothing like lime for making alfalfa grow on a sour soil."

"Come on, Doris, let's serve ourselves at the Lawrence Cafeteria, W. Milwaukee St."

The Future of Farming
—and The J. I. Case Plow Works Company

THE American farmer today represents the greatest single purchasing power in the world. His expenditures necessary to conduct his business exceed that of all other industries in America combined.

According to the United States census, there are 6,361,000 farms in this country and such is the dependency of the entire world on the product of these farms that everything possible is being done to encourage still greater production by means of greater efficiency.

For forty-four years the farming implements manufactured by the J. I. CASE PLOW WORKS COMPANY have been a dependable element in the cost of producing food, and they have been a large factor in securing greater farming efficiency.

Today because of new world conditions and the new machinery necessary in profitable farming, the J. I. CASE PLOW WORKS COMPANY faces a new and prosperous era.

Its productions from plows to tractors have been fully proven—the demand for them is already greater than the company is in a position to supply; the earnings of the company are exceeding all estimates; and the possibilities for a satisfactory investment in the securities of this company are well worth investigation by conservative investors.

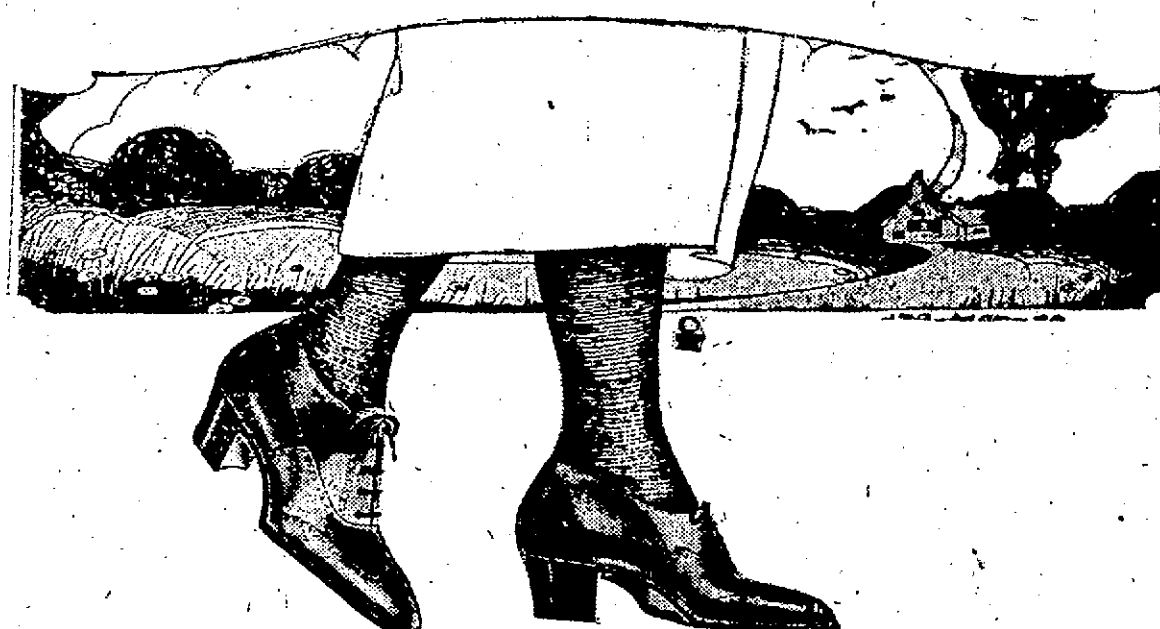

We especially recommend consideration of the First Preferred Stock of this company and shall be glad to give those who desire to obtain full details, some interesting facts.

TOWN UNIT OF ROAD BUILDING UNDER NEW LAW EFFECTIVE APR. 7

The new town road law, which provides for appointment of a superintendent of highways, who shall be in charge of town road work, for the payment of road taxes in cash, becomes effective April 7. It eliminates the town unit of highway improvements. It makes a change from a system which began in the territorial days of Wisconsin by which when repairs were needed farmers joined with the townsmen in doing the work.

"The new law will in no way affect the county highways commission," stated George Woodruff, chairman of the committee, which interviewed today. "The county commission has supervision of all roads in the county outside of the towns and cities. It is merely a change of system within the town building and repairing in the townships."

One Road Superintendent
The new law provides that the town board shall appoint some competent person to superintend under its direction, the construction and repair of all highways and bridges in the town. He shall hold office for the term of one year from the date of appointment.

This provides for "some competent person," limiting it to one person. The old law provided for the appointment of "a competent person, or more than one." The old law also provided that if more than one person was appointed the town should be divided into as many districts as there were superintendents and each district was to be in charge of a superintendent of the district, and that the superintendents should be appointed for a term of three years.

How Appointed.
Two new sections are added to the statute bearing upon the office of town road superintendent. The town board shall appoint and fix the compensation of a competent person to superintend the construction and repair of all highways and bridges in the town, under their general supervision and direction, and such person shall be known as superintendent of highways. He may be removed for cause by the town board and vacancies filled by that board. The town highway superintendent is required to execute a bond in an amount fixed by the town board. He may be paid, in addition, an amount per month for the up-keep of a house and vehicle, automobile or motor truck.

RIVER RISES RAPIDLY, FLOODS LOWLANDS

still rising. Ice jams in the city are being moved by blasting to save bridges of all highways and bridges and it is expected there will be considerable damage.

South of Wausau a further rise of water is feared. It may be expected conditions everywhere will become worse unless cold weather follows. It was snowing at Tomahawk this morning and gradually becoming colder.

FEARS OF FLOOD PASS AS RIVER DROPS A FOOT
Eau Claire, March 25.—A drop of one foot during the night in the Chippewa river, here and the cessation of the four days of continuous rain have dissipated practically all fear of a serious flood here.

The river reached its crest last night and then began to recede without doing much damage except at Chippewa Falls where basements were flooded and the partial wrecking of the Dells Paper and Pulp company's dam.

LAST CHANCE
No more numbers will be given out at the Wood Hardware company, on the Shaw street, after twelve o'clock, noon, tomorrow, Saturday, March 27th. Winning number will be announced in Saturday evening's Gazette. Set your number before noon tomorrow.

CORNELL ARRESTED ON WHISKEY SELLING CHARGE; BAIL $1,500

Jesse Cornell, former bartender at the Myers hotel, was arraigned in municipal court today charged with having sold a quart of liquor for $25 to Charles Hendricks, who testified yesterday he had bought liquor from him. Cornell entered a plea of not guilty and asked for an examination which was set for April 2.

Bail was at first fixed by Judge Maxfield at $500, but was later tripled.
A warrant for the arrest of Cornell was sworn out by Chief Morrissey yesterday, after Hendricks testified in open court, but it was served Cornell had left town, as it was said he had been seen going toward the depots with a grip.

Just as he was leaving the city he went to a hotel to sleep, police say. He was arrested by Officer George Champion at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon just after he had left the hotel.

CAMPAIGN FUNDS TOO HIGH SAYS BORAH

get. And if I thought any democrat would not hesitate to tell the people that that was wrong.

"I argue on third terms," rejoined Senator Borah. "then he is blessed with an abundance of which I would not suspect him. I think the president is entitled to a third term, for who else would lead the light for the country?"

"Doesn't the senator mean a third nomination?" asked Senator Moses, republican, New Hampshire, who is chairman of the general woods Washington bureau.

"Well, if the candidate of the senator of New Hampshire is up here, he is not a third term," Senator Borah replied. "I don't know what a third term is."

Senator Borah quoted a newspaper report that the democratic national committee was raising a ten million dollar campaign fund and added that there were evidence of the republican organization.

"But Chairman Cummings of the democratic national committee has suggested that in view of the probable delay in securing legislation to limit pre-convention expenditures, a resolution of investigation would be better," Senator Borah replied that he would favor such a resolution also.

Referring to the Newberry trial in Michigan, Senator Borah said it was a sorry and is humiliating on political virtue when in recent years one senator had been expelled, another tried for corruption and that now "we have suffered the humiliation of a third jury trial."

Senator Chamberlain, democrat, Oregon, interrupted Senator Borah's speech and said that the republican side and he himself is a democrat for election to the democratic convention as delegate at large from California. These gentlemen, who intend to get the nomination of the republican side and he himself is a democrat for election to the democratic convention as delegate at large from California. These gentlemen, who intend to get the nomination of the republican side and he himself is a democrat for election to the democratic convention as delegate at large from California.

On Both Sides
"They usually do," Senator Borah said. "Senator J. Doherty head of great oil interests in Mexico is named here as a contributor to General Wood's funds on the republican side and he himself is a democrat for election to the democratic convention as delegate at large from California. These gentlemen, who intend to get the nomination of the republican side and he himself is a democrat for election to the democratic convention as delegate at large from California."

"I believe this is a national peril," I intend to get the nomination of the republican side and he himself is a democrat for election to the democratic convention as delegate at large from California. These gentlemen, who intend to get the nomination of the republican side and he himself is a democrat for election to the democratic convention as delegate at large from California."

"Now I have a lot of telegrams from South Dakota concerning the primary here. They indicate that for every vote cast in that primary for Wood or Lowden $10 was spent. It cost that much."

THREE BODIES TELL BRUTAL MURDER TALE

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Milwaukee, March 25.—Three bodies—those of father, mother and five months old baby—found in a shambles in a cottage in the rear of 608 Eleventh street today told the story of a brutal murder tragedy.

Joseph Martin, the father, had beaten his wife, Loretta, to death and then turned on the gas to kill himself and child, also named Loretta.

Martin was 26 years old and had been employed in the international harvester plant. His wife was 20. They had been married a year and, according to members of the family, had quarreled constantly.

Christiansia.—A force of 2,000 bolsheviks from the Murmansk region has occupied the town of Petchenka in the northwestern section of the Kola peninsula.

Copenhagen.—It is reported that the allied interventionist commission has agreed on the occupation of the northern peninsula zone of Schleswig by Danish troops as soon as possible.

EMPLOY GLASS BLOWER TO MAKE INSTRUMENTS

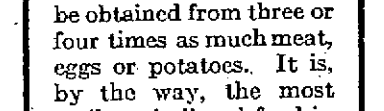

In the employment this year of a skilled glass blower to make the delicate apparatus needed by its physics and chemistry departments, the University of Wisconsin now has facilities in this respect rivaled only by Harvard, Johns Hopkins and half a dozen other large universities.

J. B. Davis, the glass blower whom the university secured last fall, is one of about a hundred skilled glass blowers in the country and one of half a dozen native-born experts in his art.

Mr. Davis devotes his entire time to making thermometers, hydrometers, X-ray tubes, gas analysis apparatus, burettes, and other delicate laboratory instruments which formerly the university was forced to buy from commercial firms. Before the war the industry was controlled in Germany, and most of its experts were killed in the war. Under those circumstances, the few universities that have skilled glass blowers are in more fortunate positions than those who must secure their apparatus where they can.

THREE BELOIT BOYS CHARGED WITH THEFT OF AUTOMOBILE

Three boys, ranging in age from 12 to 17 years, were held by Beloit police today charged with perpetrating a series of three automobile robberies in two cities, Beloit and Janesville. They are believed to have stolen the coupe of G. P. Ludden, Janesville, Tuesday night. Those held are all Beloit boys: Hugh Collins, 17, Perry Hall, 16, Roy Williams, 12.

They were arrested in Rockford yesterday after it is said they had abandoned the stolen machine, wrecked, and while attempting to steal another car.

Tuesday night they are charged with having taken the Ludden machine from the garage of the owner in Rockford where they abandoned it, the machine to be recovered by Deputy George Appleby, former local police officer. That car was the one which when Frank Ellis found them tampering with his car in Rockford. They are to have a preliminary hearing, Thursday.

ITALY TO TAX LANDS OF NON-RESIDENTS

Rome—A tax would be imposed on property in Italy owned by foreigners not living in this country under the proposed new taxation and finance law which the government has laid before the Chamber of Deputies. This tax also would apply to Italy's stocks which such foreigners may hold.

Any money owed abroad by Italian subjects or companies also would be heavily taxed. Subscribers to the loan of 1920 and capital brought into Italy after January 1 of this year would be exempt from taxation.

The proposed tax on Italian stocks and shares held abroad is criticized by the financial expert of the tribuna as unjust on the ground that this property already pays an income tax in the country where the owner is living. The paper points out that such a tax would be likely to discourage entrance of foreign capital into this country which is so necessary for Italy at this moment.

CHAPTER XI.

One of the slippers.

I went back to bed, and thus ends

Thursday night. Friday morning found me pretty desperate. I felt I must now get help or literally die of starvation. If nothing worse, for

I went out, now that monster had a key to my flat, he could slip in and back me out and stay till he found the diamonds. And if I took them out with me, well, that was something simply couldn't think of.

Nothing had come of the letters I had given George to mail. He had been so busy that he had not had time to do it. But he had put them in the box immediately. Well, he put them in the box—but not until Saturday, as I happen to know by the postmarks on the letters. But let that go. On Friday morning the one person I could positively trust to mail a letter for me popped into my head—the postman.

I rang for George and it was a solemn face I showed in exchange for his ivory smile.

"George, I seem to have lost a check in the mail, and I'm sorry. I sent you to bring the postman up on his next trip so I can see about it."

"I don't know nothing about it," he exclaimed excitedly. "If it comes I bring it up—that's a sure thing."

"Nobody says you took it," I reminded him. "But I must see the postman on his next trip."

"Well, I can't take no letter and no check," George said. "But I held my peace—George had done something about my letters he was afraid to find out. And he did—by the next delivery. He brought up one with my brother's business address on the outside, the postmark from New York three days old!

He hurried down to catch the man on his next trip, and through the top of the disappearing car sung out to me, "I ain't take no letter and no check."

I rushed to my study, and this is the letter I dashed off to Billy:

Dear Billy: That affair is now life and death. Come at once—but tell no body till you see me. Bring out your revolver. Don't bother with the telephone—my wires are out and

I'm a prisoner being starved to death in my own flat.

EIGHT FROM ROCK COUNTY WILL AID STATE SOCIAL WORK

Four Janesville citizens have been placed on the state committee of Social Work according to Edward D. B. Lynde, executive secretary. Rev. Henry Williamson and Miss Robert Shumway are members of the committee on family welfare; George S. Parker, member of the finance committee; and Sup. J. J. Hooper, member of the hygiene committee. Other Rock County citizens who serve on committees are: Mrs. Walter Green, Evansville; Miss Ella D. Lemmerhirt, Madison; Mrs. C. C. Converse, Beloit; family welfare; H. S. Hovey, Beloit; industrial relations.

The conference of social work for its purpose solving of social and welfare problems such as those presented in neglected children, feeble minded and delinquent girls, illegitimacy and communicable diseases. Through committees representing those interested in social work throughout the state, the conference will serve as a clearing house for such legislative effort and will help in placing public opinion in advance of sessions of the legislature. It is planned to hold district conferences in different parts of the state at which people of each county may compare their social problems with those of other counties thus getting closely in touch with state wide organizations. Central offices of the conference have been established at Madison with a subsidiary office in Milwaukee. Membership in the conference is open to any individual who is interested, and institutional memberships are open to all social welfare agencies in the state.

SENATOR LENROOT AND RANDALL BACK NEW BONUS DEMAND

Assurance that they will do everything in their power to secure bonus legislation for the ex-service men of the World War is given to the former-enlisted men's organization of this city in letters received by R. J. Keller, secretary, from United States Senator Irving L. Lenroot and Congressman Clifford E. Randall.

"In view of all that has been done to have the value of their services measured in money, but I do believe that they are entitled to something more than the thanks of congress for the services they rendered."

Representative Randall goes on record that he advocates $30 a month for each soldier, sailor and marine who participated in the great war.

"A great many plans for added compensation to aid the returned soldier have been presented in congress at this session," he states. "A number of us got together when these plans were submitted in committee and forced an issue in having all these proposed measures voted on to the house committee on ways and means. This committee is now conducting hearings. As soon as investigation is completed and all parties heard, the committee will undoubtedly make a full report to the house."

MOOSE OFFICERS INSTALLED HERE

Officers were installed at the regular meeting of the Moose lodge last evening. Those who took office were: Floyd Adams, past dictator; A. E. Hines, dictator; B. V. Curtis, vice dictator; T. F. Kane, inner guard; E. C. Baumann installed the officers.

Plans were completed for entertaining the legion which will meet in this city Sunday with delegates from Madison, Beloit, Monroe, Evansville and Stoughton.

Every Day Science for Boy Mechanics

Retarding Spark on Hills
Keeps Motor from Knocking
By G. M. Hyatt
"Why did the spark when she was driving the car uphill, Daddy?"

"Because the motor is laboring hard and begins to knock. You may also notice that I have to remind her to advance the spark when driving on a level road."

"The spark is the shorter of the two levers on the steering wheel quadrant. The longer lever is a hand gasoline throttle controlling gasoline supply. The spark lever connects with a 'distributor' that 'times' the electric sparks in the cylinder spark plugs. On some cars the spark is retarded when the lever is pulled down on the quadrant; on others, retardation is at the top."

"The spark lever regulates the time of the spark as related to the position of the piston in the cylinder, as these cross-sections show. Fig. A shows 'retarded spark' with the spark plug (R) firing just after the intake valve (S), admitting gasoline vapor, has closed and the piston (P) has started down. In Fig. B, inside position, the spark is firing just as the piston is at the top. In Fig. C, advanced spark, the spark is firing just while the valve is still slightly open. When the car is running at fair speed on a level road, I advance the spark to the point just ahead of the cause under such conditions the piston moves so fast that it reaches the top before the gas vapor really takes fire. If I desire slow, smooth power from the motor, in climbing hills or driving in slow traffic, I retard the spark to bring the explosion after the piston has started down. If the spark came ahead of time, under these conditions, the explosions would come too soon, would catch the valve open and the piston on the upward path. It would give the valve and bearings a bad jar—called a 'knock.' I set the spark in center in going through the gears to get both acceleration and power. I must retard the spark in starting the motor so that the motor will not start backward and break the self-starter."

POWER FARMING DAY TOMORROW

While farmers throughout the country are showing their interest in the establishment of a farm bureau to advance their business to overcome present economic conditions, the shortage of farm help is being combated by the use of the power tractor. A power farming day will be held in this city tomorrow in Robert P. Duggan's showrooms on North Academy street with R. T. Glasco, county agent, as one of the speakers. A. W. Glavin, Milwaukee; John Riley, Fond du Lac; and A. E. Hildebrand will also speak. A drawing will be made for a feed grinder.

Cheer Boxes Are Sent to Sick Soldiers in Camp

Two large boxes totaling about 150 pounds were packed yesterday, and shipped to Camp Eber, New Mexico, for the use of the tuberculosis soldiers located at the camp. The list of supplies included boxes of candy and home made cookies, jellies, canned goods, and literature including books, scrap books, and Easter cards. All these were carefully packed by Miss Gertrude Cobb and Mrs. P. A. Taylor who had charge of the collection and transportation of the gifts. They were sent to Miss Rachel Head, former Janesville girl who is teacher of arts and crafts at the camp.

D. A. R. to Offer Prizes in School History Contest

In common with the precedent established in 1917, the local chapter of the D. A. R. is offering prizes to pupils of the eighth grade in the schools in a history contest, to be held at the close of the school year. The prizes total $12 in value, and will be awarded by some member of the local chapter on the class night of the graduating exercises. The character of the prizes has been left to a committee, consisting of Mrs. E. R. Leonard and Miss Kate Elfield. Sometimes books have been given, and medals, and for the last two years war savings stamps. This practice of the chapter is in line with its policy of fostering the study of American history in the younger generation.

Maine Republicans For Treaty With Reservations

(By Associated Press.)
The peace treaty with the reservations adopted by the senate was favored in resolutions presented to the republican state convention yesterday. A resolution disapproving government ownership of railroads and steamships was also offered. The business included the nomination of also candidates for presidential electors and the choice of four delegates at large and eight district delegates to the national convention.

Dollar-Making Ideas

The Judge's Fish—Brown's Baby
Changes for Money from Camera
By Belle Case Harrington
Remember that big fish Judge Allen caught last summer? Well, why didn't you get a picture of the Judge and the fish, mount it on a piece of birch bark and then sell him about 15 or 20 to send to all his friends?

Why didn't you get a picture of that out trick the Brown's baby did the other day? Its grandparents would have paid almost anything for that picture.

Oh! You don't have to go looking for chances to make money from your camera.

You should have a camera at least 4x5, and do your own printing and developing. That is the only way to do profitable work, and you can soon pay for a good outfit. Always print on glossy paper, with good, sharp lines, if you are doing something to sell to a newspaper or magazine, and send it in unmounted. For other purposes use soft papers, with the sort of mounting best adapted to the subject.

Nobody wants a photograph of the wart on the side of his nose, or the new suit that is a misfit, or the house with a sagging porch; but that new grandson, or the first automobile, or the fine new house on the boulevard—these are the pictures that will sell.

"Children at play" is one of the best subjects. Watch them for several days, then get a series of pictures, showing them for a whole afternoon. Mount them in a little booklet of grey cardboard, quaintly marked "Playtime" and if you don't get a dozen orders, it will be because those particular children haven't any relatives.

The prize calf at the county fair, or pictures of bumper crops can also be sold in this way, while many of the farm papers like pictures of farm scenes or children and animals for their cover designs. If you are on good terms with birds and wild animals, you may be able to get some really valuable pictures of rare birds' nests, or animals in their natural homes. Publishers of nature-study books, or any of that class of magazines will readily buy such subjects. You can get a clever picture of some manufactured article, in use, like a cream separator, or a bicycle, or a rifle, you can sell it quite readily to the manufacturers.

(The Pink Sunbonnet Lady and Truck Farming; tomorrow.)

An authority on botany estimates that the number of species of flowers cultivated in Europe is 4,300, of which 30 possess an agreeable perfume. Odors are most likely to be found in flowers having white or cream-colored petals, than yellow, red, blue and violet in order.

Nervous prostration is the prize possession of people with little mental ability and not much character, accompanied by a great deal of moral activity, says an authority.

The world produces 12,000,000 tons of cotton per year, nine of which originate in American and two-and-a-half in India.

Georges Carpentier and his bride, photographed on board ship on arrival in the United States.

His coming fight with Jack Dempsey for the heavyweight title is of secondary importance to Georges Carpentier, European ring king, just now. Carpentier, who recently arrived in the U. S. with his bride, halted a barrage of questions concerning his record and opinion of Dempsey with the query: "Why talk always of fighting? Why don't you ask me about my wonderful bride?" The trip to the U. S. is partly a honeymoon voyage for Carpentier and his bride.

Witness in Caillaux Trial Is Protested

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Paris, March 26.—Efforts were made Thursday by attorneys representing former Premier Joseph Caillaux on trial for having treasonable dealings with the enemy during the war, to attack the credibility as a witness of Leon Rosenwald, Buenos Aires. M. Rosenwald, who is editor of La Nation, testified Caillaux had told him in 1917 France must make peace immediately at any cost and that she "could not continue the sacrifices of the last three years."

Daniel Levy, an Alsatian, testified he had long known M. Rosenwald, whose real name, he declared, was Kahn. He asserted Kahn had been convicted of embezzlement in Alsace-Lorraine in 1875.

BIG CHERRY ORCHARDS FOUND IN WISCONSIN

Wisconsin now has nearly 5,000 acres of cherry orchards which according to G. F. Potter, horticulturist at the University of Wisconsin, yielded last year a crop valued at $1,000,000.

By far the greater part of this crop was produced on the Door county peninsula, only a small part being produced in Bayfield county in upper Wisconsin. The cherry industry has been developed largely during the past twelve years and it is still growing rapidly.

Sour cherries are grown almost exclusively—the Early Richmond being used to supply the early market and the Montmorency for finishing up the season.

In Door county alone more than 4,000 pickers were required to harvest the 1919 crop. Few of the trees have reached their prime so that more and more pickers will be required each year. Most of the cherries are marketed through a co-operative association of the growers. In order to protect itself against a possible glut in the market, the association has purchased and equipped a large canning factory which takes care of any surplus or over-ripe fruit.

Wisconsin now has what is reputed to be the largest sour cherry orchard in the world. It is located in Door county and it covers a little more than one solid square mile and contains 70,000 trees.

Of the African rivers, the Zambesi, 2,000 miles in length, is the largest river in South Africa; the Orange comes next with 1,500 miles and the Limpopo, 800 miles.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT

Written and publication authorized by Wm. J. Lennartz and to be paid for by him at the rate of 75c per inch.

To the Voters of the City of Janesville:—

I wish to announce myself to the voters of Janesville as a candidate for the office of City Treasurer. I was born in Janesville April 22nd, 1861, and am nearly fifty-nine years of age. I have been in the U. S. Postal Service for thirty-two years as a City Letter Carrier. Have been on the U. S. Civil Service Examining Board for twenty-eight years and am now Chairman of said Board.

There is an impression prevailing that there is a pension attached to the Mail Service, but this is not true.

Previous to my work as a Letter Carrier, I was employed by the old firm of Hodge & Buchholz for eleven years. My entire life has been spent in Janesville and the same is an open book to all of the older citizens as well as the younger. I feel that this explanation is due to the citizens that do not know me.

As to my qualifications, I wish to assure the citizens that I am competent to carry out the duties of the office, if elected.

In making this statement, I am appealing to the citizens for their support and in return, if I am elected, I promise to give the office the best there is in me.

Respectfully,

Wm. J. Lennartz

NEWBERRY MUST RESIGN HIS SEAT

Only Way He Can Be Consistent—His Case and That of Berger's.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

(Copyright, 1920, by Janesville Gazette.)

Washington, D. C., March 26.—Announcement by Gov. Sleeper of Michigan that he would not ask any officeholder to resign who was not convicted in the federal courts for violation of the election laws has revived the inquiry here not merely as to what the state of Michigan would do but what the United States senate would say about the retention by Truman H. Newberry of his seat. The question concerns not only Michigan politics and the reduction of the republican majority in the United States senate to one vote—a narrow margin on which to do business—but it affects the opportunities of the socialists and radicals in the next campaign. Already the socialists are drawing a parallel between the expulsion of Victor Berger from the house of representatives because he had been convicted in a federal court on a charge of violating the espionage act and the case of Truman H. Newberry who has been convicted and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. Want Newberry to Resign. Both Mr. Berger and Mr. Newberry have appealed their respective cases and each hopes to secure a reversal even if it is necessary to carry the fight to the supreme court of the United States. But in the meantime, the house of representatives not only refused to seat Mr. Berger, but when he was re-elected by the people of Wisconsin who by their votes gave the impression that they didn't believe him guilty of wrong-doing, the house declined even then to accept Mr. Berger into its membership. All the scap-box orators are getting ready to point out that a socialist can't get a square deal from the federal government, and the Newberry case is the very ammunition they say they have needed to drive their point home. Berger friends claim his crime consisted merely in expressing an opinion—in saying the war was not for democracy but for commercial gain and rivalry. Some of the very criticisms made by Mr. Berger during the heat of the conflict were later repeated in substance by President Wilson on his western trip in behalf of the league of nations; but of course the fighting was over and there was no sharp scrutiny of words or arguments in post-bellum days. How Mr. Newberry May Act. There are three ways by which the problem developed by the Newberry case can be solved. Mr. Newberry can resign of his own volition and spare his colleagues in the senate any embarrassment; the senate could by a majority vote declare Mr. Newberry's seat vacant, and the governor of Michigan can make a temporary appointment and call a new election. The state of Michigan can have a new election before the senate acts and say whether in view of the federal court's verdict, the people still want Mr. Newberry to represent them in the senate. Then the senate, in the event that the vote is favorable to Mr. Newberry, can vindicate its own position and reverse the principle adopted in the house in the Berger case and permit Mr. Newberry to remain in the senate, while his case is being appealed. The junior senator from Michigan has not yet returned to Washington. Immediately after his conviction he said he would consult his colleagues in the senate before deciding whether or not to resign. Would Not Remain. Truman Newberry is not the kind of a man who would stay in the senate a second longer than his colleagues wanted him to do so. He would not engage in a controversy or fight for his seat, as did Senator Lorimer of Illinois. If he resigns, it will be because his republican associates insist upon it, though from the viewpoint of political control the vacancy caused by a possible resignation of Mr. Newberry would be filled at once by the appointment of another republican, as the governor of Michigan is a republican. Personally, Truman Newberry is well liked in the senate. He made many friends here when he was assistant secretary of the navy, and the general impression given by his defenders is that he was the victim of overzealous friends who spend large sums of money to defeat Henry Ford and gave little concern to a possible chuck up. Managers on Their Guard. As a matter of fact, although it is unfortunate that Truman Newberry should have been ordered punished for what so many office holders have gotten away with in past years without prosecution of any kind, the effect of the Michigan verdict already has been to put campaign managers on their guard, and to promote a healthier regard for federal and state corrupt practices acts and election laws. The upshot of the Newberry case, however, probably will be the voluntary resignation by Mr. Newberry of his seat in the senate.

BREADSTUFFS, DAIRY, EXPORTS FALL OFF

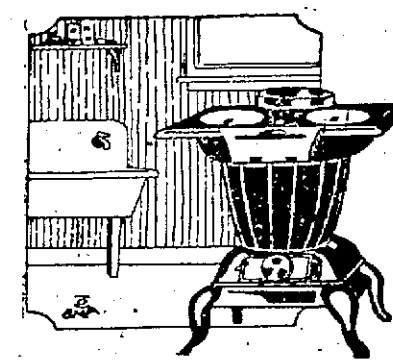

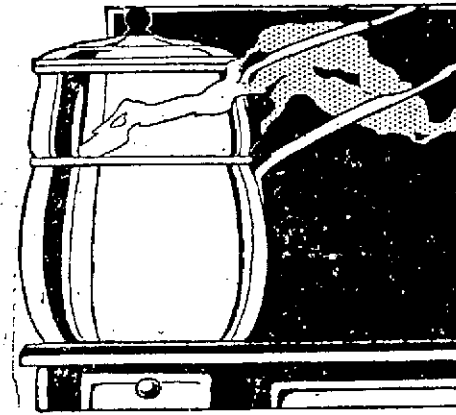

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Washington, March 26.—Exports of breadstuffs and dairy products decreased in February as compared with the same month a year ago, but cotton shipments increased both in bulk and value, according to a review issued today by the department of commerce. Shipments of breadstuffs were valued at $44,000,000 as compared with $56,000,000 the same month last year and meat and dairy products at $67,000,000 against $85,000,000. Cotton export shipments totaled 640,000 bales, valued at $136,950,127 against 449,000 bales, valued at $73,552,274 in February a year ago. Little change was shown in the outward movement of cereals except wheat exports which fell off 1,000,000 bushels.
